ASIAN CERAMIC SOCIETY
19-20th December 2026, Xi'an, Shaanxi, China

Innovate Ceramics • Preserve Heritage • Connect Asia

ABOUT ASIAN CERAMIC SOCIETY

The Asian Ceramic Society (ACS) is a non-profit international academic organization officially registered in Singapore. Initiated by Prof. Yao Xi (Member of the Chinese Academy of Sciences and Foreign Member of the U.S. National Academy of Engineering), ACS has established three professional divisions: Advanced Ceramics, Traditional Ceramics, and Building & Sanitary Ceramics. ACS is committed to promoting academic exchange and collaborations in the ceramic field across Asia.

ABOUT ICACS 2026

ICACS 2026 is the inaugural flagship conference of the Asian Ceramic Society. The conference focuses on functional and structural ceramics, traditional art and architectural ceramics, and the scientific study and conservation of the ancient ceramics. It provides a premier international platform for the scientists, engineers, researchers and industry professionals to share the latest advances, promote innovations, preserve cultural heritage and strengthen collaborations across Asia and around the world.
